

TRUSTEES CONTRACT FOR SEWERS TO SERVE NEW ADDITIONS

Work Will Begin at Once in Reese Tract, W. Redwood, Homestead and Others

Water construction contracts to the amount of $14,439.20 were let by the city trustees Monday night. Construction is scheduled to begin immediately on Redwood avenue, between the Wooster, Whitten & Montgomery tracts, West Redwood and the Homestead addition.

W. J. Tobin of Oakland was given the contracts, having underbid the other bidders by $1,860.42.

A resolution for the laying of sewers on Sequoia avenue was adopted by the trustees to City Clerk Price to advertise for bids to be opened Monday, June 8.

The dedication to the city of the rights of way for sewers in Oak Hill Manor was accepted by the board on a resolution presented by City Attorney Mansfield.

Following agreement on a new water rate between the trustees and officials of the Redwood City Water Company, City Attorney Mansfield presented an ordinance to cover the new rate as applied to consumers.

The company was recently granted an increase of six cents per 1,000 gallons in its contract with the city for the next twelve months.

The ordinance will come up for action next Monday night and will be effective immediately upon its passage. It provides an increase of five cents per 1,000 gallons, with a monthly service charge of 25 cents, making the minimum rate to consumers $1.25 per month.

The new building ordinance was adopted after final reading. The ordinance, which provides for construction of all types of buildings within the city, will be printed and distributed by City Clerk Price.

Thanks for their co-operation in the drive of "cleaner work" was expressed to the trustees by the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce in a communication which also called attention to the city's failure to remove certain bits of rubbish from property frontages.

City Clerk Price was instructed to reply to the communication directing attention to the city's promise to remove weeds in front of homes and from the streets only.

Repair of a portion of sidewalk on Maple street near the highway was ordered on motion of Trustee Tuckson, seconded by Beeger. Repairs will be financed by an allowance of $50 received by the city from the contractor when the work was accepted some time ago.

The board was addressed by City Electrician C. L. Collins, who requested that the Pacific Gas and Electric Company be asked to remove poles along Broadway and on Main street. City Clerk Price was instructed to communicate with the company.

Since the board's decision to remove palm trees, which it is claimed will interfere with the new electric lines along Broadway, Trustee Tuckson explained that many appeals had been received for the preservation of the palms. On his suggestion the board deferred action in the matter until the lights are turned on. It is hoped that the trees will not seriously obstruct the new street lighting.

Regulation of the placing of advertising signs on property along the streets, called to the attention of the board by Chairman McNulty, was referred to City Attorney Mansfield for an opinion.

Adjournment was taken until next Monday night at 8 o'clock.

PLANS FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY BOARD

Bids Will Be Called for Next Week Building to Be Show Place Of Peninsula

Werner & Coffey, the architects who were selected to prepare plans and specifications for the new Sequoia Union High School, on Tuesday presented their finished plans to the county superintendent of schools and the high school trustees, and they were approved by Mr. Cloud the trustees formally accepted them.

The plans for the building show a unit type of construction. The central part of the structure is for administration and recitation purposes. It is in the form of a square with one side missing, built around the Japanese tea garden. The style of structure is Spanish renaissance, but suggestive of the mission because of its tiled roof. The central portion is of two stories with the commercial department housed in the upper story. The rest of the building is of one story construction. On the Brewster street side the auditorium, which is joined to the main structure by a colonnade, will seat 850 and has all of the latest appliances to make it useful as well as ornamental. On the other side of the administration unit the gymnasium is located.

The architecture of this building corresponds with that of the other and will be one of the best equipped gyms in this section of California. It will contain basketball and handball courts and an indoor plunge, while the outdoor plunge is so situated as to make it practically part of the gymnasium.

The heating plant for the school will be situated under the gym and the water in the two plunges and in the showers will be heated and pumped every day.

The barn which is now on the premises will be remodeled and used for manual training and shop work. The school is designed for 800 students, but it can easily accommodate 1,000 to 1,200.

With the setting which this group of buildings will have, Sequoia High School will be one of the show places of the peninsula. A large ornamental gateway will be erected on the highway at Broadway, which will call public attention to the beautiful grounds and buildings that are particularly concealed by the majestic oaks and eucalyptus trees which grow in such profusion on the site.

PENINSULA BUREAU PROPOSES BIG FUND FOR EASTERN ADVERTISING

President Smith Opens $35,000 Drive To Bring Eastern Tourists to Peninsula

Manager R. H. K. Smith, secretary of the Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations, announces this week the opening of a campaign to raise $35,000 for the purpose of advertising the peninsula in the east.

The Peninsula Bureau of Chambers of Commerce and Civic Associations is doing extraordinary work toward the industrial and residential development of the peninsula. It has endorsed and is fighting for the east side highway and Dumbarton bridge. It is going into the matter of quicker and better transportation, including an electric line down the peninsula.

An intensive campaign for tourist and other travel is under way with a big advertising campaign. This all takes money and to carry out the 1922 program all interested in the development of the peninsula and its upbuilding are requested to contribute. It is suggested by the chairman of the finance committee, Asa Hull, treasurer of the San Carlos Chamber of Commerce, that anyone and everyone be asked to subscribe a substantial amount to the cause. Lead the chamber a hand and let us help build up the peninsula.

The trustees of the Sequoia Union High School organized for the coming year at their meeting last Saturday by re-electing L. P. Behrens president and D. E. O'Keefe clerk. Both have served in their respective capacities for many years.

Architects of the new high school building were present with plans which were reviewed by the board. After consideration of the requests that the school be extended its services to the Los Lomitas district, the board decided that the expense of running the bus could not be justified in view of the small number of children in the district.

Failure to receive proper bids for cutting of trees resulted in the laying over of the matter by the trustees until a future meeting.

A. C. Argo, principal of the Sequoia Union High School, recommended the employment of an extra man to serve as an instructor in the machine shop and director of athletics for boys and girls.

The recommendation that salaries of permanent teachers be paid in 12 monthly payments was also made by the principal. The salaries of new teachers to be in ten monthly payments.

The harmony and history of music and an advanced course in Spanish are to be added to the curriculum on recommendation of Principal Argo. All the suggestions advanced by the principal were approved by the board.

WORK ON COMMUNITY HOSPITAL FACES SERIOUS DELAY

American Plan Dealers Put Ban on the Delivery of Material to New Hospital

Contractors on the new community hospital at San Mateo county, now building at Beresford, reported to the county supervisors on Monday that the work is in danger of serious delay because of failure to secure materials from dealers in San Francisco, pledged to the American plan.

The dealers' association reports that it cannot supply material for plastering to be used exclusively by union plasterers, according to the rules of the American plan, it was explained by William Hilp of the contracting firm of Barrett & Hilp of San Francisco.

Nine men are now at work on the main building with material sufficient for the present month, Hilp said.

Five of these men are plasterers belonging to the union and are working on the outside walls of the structure with material purchased several months ago.

It is desired to begin work on the interior plastering, the ban on the delivery of material to be lifted by employing non-union men.

Sufficient non-union plasterers for the work cannot be secured, however, it was stated, so that the contractors are at a loss, to solve the difficulty.

Delivery of material by the dealers is promised if the crews are composed of both union and non-union men, it was stated. The Industrial Association of San Francisco notified the contractors they could supply one non-union plasterer on the job for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the American plan.

This would lift the man on the delivery of material. It was explained, but would cause a walkout of the main body of the crew, composed of union plasterers.

Thus the contractors face the problem of being without material so long as they have sufficient workmen, while they may get the material only at the price of being without a crew.

It was proposed to solve the difficulty by making purchases of material through the board of supervisors and the matter was referred to District Attorney Swart for an opinion.

The suggestion was made by W. H. Topke, architect of the building, and is to be tried by the board in case there is further delay in the delivery of plaster, providing the board can legally enter a contract for the purchase of building material to be used on the hospital.

W. R. Barrett of the contracting firm stated that he would finish out the work with the material on hand and then decide as to whether or not to continue on the American plan.

MOTHER'S DAY

Tomorrow, the churches of the land will devote a part of the service to the thought of mother. If mother is alive a white rose should be worn; if she has gone to her reward a red rose is the symbol to show that she is being held in memory.

What thoughts the word mother brings. All that is good and right is gathered around mother. As we think back to the hundreds of things she did every day to make our way pleasanter and happier we can have only a dim idea of all she did for us. No task was too hard for her. She nursed us through that attack of scarlet fever. She encouraged us to go on when others knew we were going to fail. She praised us when we needed praise. There never was a friend more true than mother. If you haven't done your duty and mother is still alive, visit her tomorrow and tell her some of the things you should. If she is a long way off write her a letter tomorrow so she may know you are thinking of her.

The following poem by Joaquin Miller is appropriate to the day:

The Bravest Battle
The bravest battle that ever was fought;
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the maps of the world you will find it not;
It was fought by the mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,
Nay, not with sword or braver pen;
Nay, not with eloquent word or thought,
From mouths of wonderful men.

But deep in a woman's walled up heart—
Of woman that would not yield,
But patiently, silently bore her part,
Lo! there is that battle field.

No marshaling troop, no bivouac song;
No banner to gleam and wave;
And oh! these battles they last so long—
From babyhood to the grave!

Yet, faithful still as a bridge of stars,
She fights in her walled-up town—
Fights on and on in the endless wars,
Then silent, unseen—goes down.

MOTORCYCLE RACES

On Sunday, May 14, will be gathered at San Carlos the modern descendants of the ancient knights of the King's Highway. The difference between these modern knights of the road and their predecessors is only that the motorbike, the uniform and the star has superseded the gay ribbon bedecked charger and plumed and armored soldier. The spirit of old is there; the same dash and daring. The same chivalry and respect for law flourishes among the men who ride the long stretches of California highways today as fast found in the gallant horsemen of old who once kept order on the king's highways.

California should indeed be proud of her highway patrolmen. The racing meet next Sunday at the San Carlos speedway will be held for the benefit of widows and orphans of these men, some of whom lost their lives in their efforts to make our highways safe.

SOME IMPRESSIONS

We note with pleasure that the plans for the new high school have been approved and that bids for its construction are to be opened. We are also told that the new building will be a wonderfully fine structure. We hope the rising generation will take some thought of what the people of this district are doing for them. If the boys who attend grow up to be just a little better and just a bit more intelligent citizens and if the girls who go through are just a bit more thorough homekeepers, then all of the cost of the new buildings and grounds will have been justified.

Up in Fort Bragg the people are mourning because a man they had looked up to had not been true to his trust. He had pretended to be something and was just a hollow show. He was trusted and because of that trust took advantage of his position to spend other people's savings. A man who would do as this man did should receive the most severe punishment. He should be required to spend the rest of his life in prison and condemned to do the hardest labor. There is some excuse for a simple minded fellow who steals. We can excuse men for a good many things, but a mature man who has been entrusted with the savings of widows and orphans and then steals those savings should have no sympathy.

Last week the children in all of the schools of our county and indeed all over the United States of America held services commemorative of the 100th anniversary of the birth of U. S. Grant. At Mount Pleasant, Ohio, Grant's birthplace, President Harding delivered an address in which he emphasized the great service that General Grant had rendered to his country. At Mount Pleasant one hundred years ago the man who was destined to lead the federal armies in a great war of rebellion and who was later to sit as chief executive of his country, was born. He was the son of a tanner. He hadn't very many opportunities, but he made the best of those he had. Here in Redwood City there is many a tanner's son who has infinitely more opportunities than Ulysses Grant had. We wonder how many of the boys are taking advantage of their better chances.

BAD CHECK MAN IN REDWOOD

Police of the bay cities have been notified by Police Chief C. L. Collins to be on the alert for a tall, well dressed man who attempted to victimize local merchants last Monday by means of worthless checks.

Checks presented here by the stranger to Frank K. Towne, cashier of the First National Bank, and bearing the forged signature of C. H. Woodhams of Woodhams & McNeil furniture dealers, were intercepted by Towne. Shortly after Towne's refusal to cash the paper Woodhams discovered that blank checks of the firm had been removed, when the stranger, posing as a customer, had written a letter in the office of the furniture company.

The man gained entrance to the office by telling Woodhams he desired to purchase furniture for a new home at La Honda. He explained that his wife would join him in a few moments and asked permission to write a note while awaiting her arrival.

After leaving the furniture store, ostensibly to search for his wife, he returned and announced that she would be in within a short time.

Following another wait of a few moments, he apologized for her failure to arrive and left again in search of her.

Shortly afterward he entered the plumbing shop of William Hogan on Main street and asked for figures on plumbing for a new house at La Honda. He exhibited plans of the home and after securing figures on the work called at the store of William Jamieson, plumber, on Maple street. He was met by Mrs. Jamieson and while awaiting the arrival of Jamieson the man asked to enter the office and write a letter.

Mrs. Jamieson left him in the office while she went in search of her husband. Upon her return the man was still busy. He submitted plans of the house and after securing figures on plumbing departed, stating that he would notify them when the work was to be done.

It was shortly after his departure from the Jamieson shop that the forged check was presented at the bank. Cashier Towne refused to honor the signature.

As the stranger departed Woodhams notified the bank of the loss of several blank checks from his check book. Towne notified the police, but the man evidently had become alarmed and made a quick departure from the city.

Later in the evening bank checks torn from the books belonging to Jamieson and Woodhams & McNeil were recovered by the police in the rear of a poolroom on Main street. Canceled checks of both firms were also discovered with several checks made out in large amounts and stamped with Jamieson's check stencil. The canceled checks had been used as a copy for Woodhams' signature and were hastily thrown away when the man decided to make his escape, in the opinion of local officers.

SUMMER CAMP FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. John B. Cassery of San Mateo will entertain 40 children and their foster mothers from the Little Children's Aid of San Francisco on next Saturday night.

A summer camp for the children's society, which cares for more than 1,200 little ones, is being sought in this vicinity. It is announced by the members of the recreation committee.

A series of picnics is being planned for the summer and it is hoped that those interested in the work will communicate with the women in charge. The picnic is a site on the peninsula available for a permanent camp where regular outings may be held.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FAILS

In his fourth attempt at suicide by leaping from a railroad bridge at Colma, Antonio Pietro Nava, 53, a laborer living at the Hotel Hotel in Colma, received a sprained arm and cut over his eye when he landed on top of an automobile which was passing under the bridge.

Occupants of the machine were also injured when Nava crashed partially through the cloth top and was later bounced into the roadway.

Mrs. M. E. Winn, 543 Hyde street, a passenger in the car, was taken to the South San Francisco general hospital suffering from possible spinal and internal injuries. Mrs. Mary Mashola, also of San Francisco, the driver of the machine, was slightly injured along with Mrs. A. Harris and Mrs. William Harris, both of 2027 Lincoln avenue, Alameda.

According to Constable S. A. Landini of Colma, who rescued Nava from the roadway, the man has made three previous attempts to end his life by jumping from the same bridge, which spans the San Francisco highway just south of Colma.

Following the attempt on Thursday Nava was brought to this city by Constable Landini for observation by medical authorities. As he was about to leap from his favorite jumping off place last Wednesday, Nava was restrained by Johnnie Boel, son of the Colma hotel proprietor, according to Landini.

Nava stated that in preparing for his latest death leap he was so busy eluding Boel that he neglected to notice a large touring car which was speeding along the highway beneath the bridge. When told that the occupants of the car had been injured, Nava declared he would be more careful in making his next suicide attempt.

THOMPSON CONVICTED OF MENLO PARK BURGLARY

ARNOLD V. THOMPSON

Arnold V. (Tommy) Thompson, a Redwood City boy, was convicted of first degree burglary in the superior court here on Thursday for participation in the robbery of the home of Julien Hart at Menlo Park early in March, when a party of alleged automobile bandits removed more than $25,000 worth of liquor belonging to Frederick W. McNair, owner of the mansion, and terrorized the Hart household for several hours. He will be sentenced by Superior Judge Buck next Monday.

Thompson was tried on charges of robbery and burglary, the former growing out of the alleged robbery of servants in the household. He denied that he had taken money from the servants, but admitted that he had been a member of the party, which he was told would be engaged to haul liquor from the Hart mansion on the night in question.

According to Thompson's story, he was told by Harry Checkers, former chauffeur for McNair, that the liquor could be taken from the place without trouble. Thompson told of engaging two automobile trucks at a Fulton street garage in San Francisco with which to transport the liquor.

Upon his arrival at the Hart home, Thompson said, he discovered that his companions had planned a burglary. Several of the men became intoxicated after finding liquor in the butler's pantry and were threatening members of the family, among them Miss Mary Conway, companion of the Hart children, Thompson said. He decided to abandon the party and left, after a conversation with

Hart. As he was leaving, Thompson said, Hart asked him not to call in the police as long as the men were in the house. Hart's fears for the safety of members of the family, in case of a battle between the officers and bandits in the house, decided him against calling the police, according to Thompson.

Hart told him it would be better to allow the men to rob the place than to call in officers and precipitate a battle, Thompson declared. The men were armed and in an ugly mood from their drinking and he decided to abide by Hart's entreaties, he said.

After leaving the house, however, he decided to return and see that the members of the household were not abused by the liquor bandits, he stated. Upon his return, Thompson found Miss Conway in danger of insult from Clifford Rollins, one of the burglars now in San Quentin. He knocked Rollins down and protected Miss Conway as well as two of the women servants, it was testified by the young woman.

Thompson stated that he stayed until the men left, in the belief that his presence was necessary to prevent injury to members of the Hart household. He did not receive any money from the sale of the stolen liquor, according to his story.

Both Hart and Miss Conway gave support to Thompson's claims in their testimony last Thursday. In his story of the burglary Thompson implicated seven others, two of whom are now serving prison sentences for their part in the affair, while five are being sought by the authorities.

Administration Puts Business in Government

Encourages Individual Initiative, Establishes Budget System, Reduces Onerous Taxes, Restores Public Confidence and Stands for Safe Policies

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE HOMER F. SNYDER (NEW YORK)

The Republican administration came into authority in March, 1921, pledged to put more business in government and to have self-government in business. That pledge has been liberally redeemed. One of the first things which the Republican administration did was to impress upon business interests that it was up to them to become self-sustaining; that they must begin to work out their own salvation instead of running to the government for artificial stimulus.

Legislation has been enacted wherever it could prove helpful, but it has not been permitted to take the place of individual energy and thrift. Simultaneously with the elimination of Government in business there was an injection of business in government. Perhaps what will go down as one of the greatest pieces of constructive legislation of the last half century was the enactment of a law creating a Budget Bureau, which made it not only possible but mandatory for the first time in the history of the United States Government to conduct the Government's business in an orderly manner. It is largely due to the inauguration of this budget system that the daily operating expenses of the Government have been reduced in the aggregate over $200,000,000 a year under this administration.

The business interests of the country were given consideration in the enactment of the new tax measure. Surtaxes were decreased, excess profits taxes were abolished altogether, and the shipping interests of the United States—which include practically every business and industry—were relieved from the burdensome transportation taxes that were levied upon freight, express and passenger traffic.

The Edge Act to facilitate the organization of corporations to promote exports was amended in order to render needed assistance to business interests endeavoring to expand America's markets in foreign countries, thereby increasing production and employment at home.

THIRD RAID MADE ON SADDLE ROCK CAFE

L. Ducuing, proprietor of the Saddle Rock Cafe at Washington street and Broadway, was fined $300 before Recorder Albert Mansfield last Monday for violation of Redwood City's "Little Volstead Act."

Ducuing was netted in a raid led by Chief of Police C. L. (Mickey) Collins, P. J. Larrocou and Edward McAuliffe last Saturday night. The raid is the second in which the cafe has figured. Proprietors of the establishment were fined $200 by Recorder Mansfield three months ago, after they had been brought into his court by means of a similar raid.

BORROWED FOR LICENSE

Alleging that she was deserted by Harry Hargreaves 15 days following her marriage in Oakland, solemnized after she had loaned Hargreaves $5 with which to purchase a license, Mrs. Susan Debenedetti Hargreaves, formerly of Woodside, filed suit for divorce in the superior court here last Wednesday.

The complaint, prepared by Attorney James T. O'Keefe, alleges that Hargreaves induced the present Mrs. Hargreaves to give up a lucrative position by representing himself as a member of a wealthy and aristocratic English family. Hargreaves promised her wealth and position, according to the complaint.

They were married on October 3, 1921. On October 18, 1921, the promising groom left Mrs. Susan Debenedetti Hargreaves and was never, to her knowledge, seen again, she complains.

He is alleged to have informed her shortly before his departure that she had better return to her former employer because he "had no further use for her." Then he left with cash, after borrowing various sums from her friends, Mrs. Hargreaves alleges. She petitions the court to restore her maiden name of Susan Debenedetti and for such other restorations as may be admissible and advisable.

BASEBALL AT SEQUOIA
The Palo Alto high school P. A. L. baseball champions came to Redwood Monday afternoon and took the Sequoia nine into camp to the tune of 4 to 0. Sequoia played a good game, but could not beat the college city aggregation.

The Sequoia midgets journeyed to William Warren Military Academy, Menlo Park, on Tuesday and played the Warren midgets a game of baseball, in which Sequoia came out on top of the lopsided score of 17 to 0. The game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of rain.

The Sequoia varsity beat the William Warren varsity baseball team Wednesday on the local diamond by a score of 3 to 2. The game was close and exciting at every stage. Bob Fox, an old Sequoia player, was umpire.

Thursday afternoon the midgets went to San Jose and played the San Jose high school 12-pound team. The midgets put up a good contest, but the San Jose boys nosed them out by one run.

DAYS OF '49 CELEBRATION
Redwood City residents have been invited by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce to attend the "Days of '49" celebration at Sacramento May 22 to May 28.

Reservations for the trip to Sacramento should be made with Secretary-Manager R. H. K. Smith of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce not later than next Saturday. A sufficient number of reservations will insure a reduced rate for the round trip. Secretary-Manager Smith will arrange for a special coach on the Southern Pacific with a Redwood City banner if a party can be arranged. The fare for the round trip by special car will be 1 1/2 times the regular one way rate.

Preparations for the fete promise it will be among the notable celebrations of California's early days. In line with the spirit to be expressed by the various features of the five-day program, every prominent man in Sacramento is raising a beard and society matrons of the city are bringing forth costumes of the early days.

FREE DEBATES ON JAP ISSUE
The following clipping from the Washington Times will be of interest to our readers:

"Californians in the national capital, who have been bristling with indignation for the last few weeks at slurs cast on their state and its people by a speaker at a public forum conducted by the First Congressional church, won a promise of satisfaction today.

"The honor of California will be upheld by Congressman Arthur M. Free of San Jose, chairman of the state delegation in congress, in a joint debate with the Rev. George Cady of New Jersey, a preacher and missionary, whose previous address aroused the ire of the westerners.

"The question at issue is California's attitude on the Japanese question. The date for the debate will be agreed upon within the next few days. Each speaker will have 40 minutes for his main speech and 10 minutes for a rejoinder. Every Californian in the capital is expected to be present.

"Here is how it all came about: 'Some weeks ago a large number of Californians went to the forum meeting to hear Rev. Mr. Cady deliver an advertised address on California and the Japanese question. They came away incensed. The minister-missionary charged that only the 'yellow newspaper and yellow politicians' in the Golden State were opposed to Japanese owning land.

"The California delegation in congress met the next day and instructed Congressman Charles F. Curry of Sacramento to write a letter to the Rev. John Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church, asking for an opportunity for a speaker to be designated by Californians to present their side of the Japanese question at a forum meeting.

"This morning along came a communication from the Rev. Dr. Pierce proposing a joint debate. After consultation with his colleagues, who agreed that he should champion California's interests, Congressman Free announced that he will accept the invitation and urged that the debate be held at as early a date as convenient."

SEASON'S RAINFALL

With a rainfall of 67 1/2 inches added last Monday night the total precipitation for the season in Redwood City is now 15 inches, according to the records of A. D. Walsh, local observer.

To the Purchasers of a 30 x 3 1/2 Usco for $10.90

WHEN the "Usco" Tire announced its new price of $10.90 it carried this understood contract with the buyer—

A price reduction made in good faith—using all the U. S. advanced art of tire making not only to get the price down, but to keep the quality up.

Today $10.90 is not the uncommon price it was last November.

But the "Usco" Tire is still the uncommon tire value it always has been.

Because in carrying out the "Usco" priced reduction in good faith, we learned something about raising the quality, too.

Cleaning Without Odor by the

F. Thomas Process

Our many years of experience has taught us that it is impossible to do perfect cleaning with cheap, inferior methods. That is why we found it necessary to invest nearly $500,000 in the equipment of a plant and the establishment of an expert organization to do the quality of work demanded by our customers.

With the "F. Thomas Process" we not only remove every particle of dust but we return your garments without that usual disagreeable smell of gasoline. Every drop of gasoline we use in cleaning is redistilled and very highly refined.

Raw gasoline—the kind that you buy for your automobile—is full of heavy oils and unfit for cleaning fabrics. It is little better than ordinary distillate and leaves a sickening "gasoline" smell in your clothes.

Our equipment to redistill and purify our cleaning fluids alone represents a bigger investment than many cleaners have in their entire plant. That is why our work has no odor.

REMAINS OF A MASTODON

Ben Griffith of Halfmoon Bay, who has made a study of the bird and animal life of San Mateo county for the past 50 years and who is rich in the lore of our little neighbors of the woods, has made a discovery in a canyon back of Halfmoon Bay which gives promise of interesting scientific investigation. While seeking specimens in this canyon Mr. Griffith came upon some exposed portion of bones and on removing the earth he found them to be part of the skeleton of a buffalo which at one time was common to this section of the country. In digging he struck a big bone and continuing his investigation he satisfied himself that it is the bone of a mastodon. If Mr. Griffith's idea is correct it will prove that this great creature of the mammoth family once wandered in the shades of San Mateo county.

DESERVED WIFE ASKS DIVORCE AT REDWOOD

Mrs. Lucille Beardsley, named as the chief legatee in the will of the late William King, druggist of Redwood City, whose death occurred several months ago, has filed suit in the superior court of San Mateo county for a divorce from Lewis C. Beardsley.

The complaint, filed by Attorney Archer Kincaid of Redwood City, alleges that the wife was abandoned by Beardsley in September, 1919, after more than 13 years of married life. The couple were married in Bakersfield in May, 1906, according to the complaint. There are no children and no community property.

Mrs. Beardsley, who has made her home in Redwood City for several years, was bequeathed $4000 in the will left by King. A house and furnishings, exclusive of the family pictures, were ordered sold and proceeds divided among Mrs. Beardsley and other heirs under the terms of the will, which named Mrs. Beardsley as King's housekeeper.

In the complaint Mrs. Beardsley petitions for a divorce and such alimony as the court may allow.

AMBASSADOR ENTERTAINED

The coincide of San Mateo county had the biggest day it every enjoyed Tuesday when the population from Edgemar to Pescadero turned out en masse at Halfmoon Bay to pay honor to Hon. Vittorio Ricci, Italian ambassador to the United States. The town of Halfmoon Bay was fittingly decorated for the occasion. The schools were dismissed and a procession of automobiles and horseback riders, decorated with the colors of the United States and Italy, met the distinguished guest as he came over the mountain into the Monterey valley. The way into Halfmoon Bay was decorated with American and Italian flags and all along the route people waved flags and shouted vivas at the party.

The ambassador, who is a handsome, gracious gentleman, bowed acknowledgment to all of the salutes and was impressed by the fervor of the welcome. He was accompanied by Hon. Vincenzo Tillett, consul general at San Francisco, his private secretary, Commander A. Sapelli, and a number of other distinguished Italian-American citizens of San Francisco and San Mateo counties. They were conducted to a platform in front of the Chemorita Hall and all of the county officials, including the supervisors, with the exception of Judge George H. Buck and District Attorney Franklin Swart, who were detained in Redwood City by a trial, were in attendance to extend the greeting of San Mateo county.

The consul general was first introduced by the chairman of the day, John L. Debonedetti, who made a short address. The ambassador then addressed the audience and told of his delight at being able to visit California and so many friends who had come from sunny Italy. He bade all of his hearers to become good, loyal American citizens. He admonished all who did not expect to make this country their permanent home to so conduct themselves that when they returned to their native land they would carry back with them a good name and a good reputation. He urged all to keep their church affiliations and be faithful to all of the traditions of their race.

He was followed by Attorney Louis Forcetta of San Francisco, who expressed his pleasure as an Italian-American to welcome such a famous personage. Attorney J. E. McCurdy of San Mateo was called and extended the right hand of fellowship to the ambassador and thanked him in the name of the people of San Mateo county for having favored this section with so long a visit.

A barbecue was then announced and the most delicious cuts of meat done to a turn and smothered in sauce were served. There was plenty for all and everyone did ample justice to the skill of the chefs. The ambassador and his party then made their departure and the afternoon and evening were pleasantly spent in dancing.

It is impossible to give the names of all who took part in arranging so wonderful a time, but Charles A. Cavalli, Danti Diandi, A. Barangila and A. Pecchia were of the most active in attending to the arrangements which were carried to so successful a conclusion.
